Seasons of Change

How do people change from season to season?

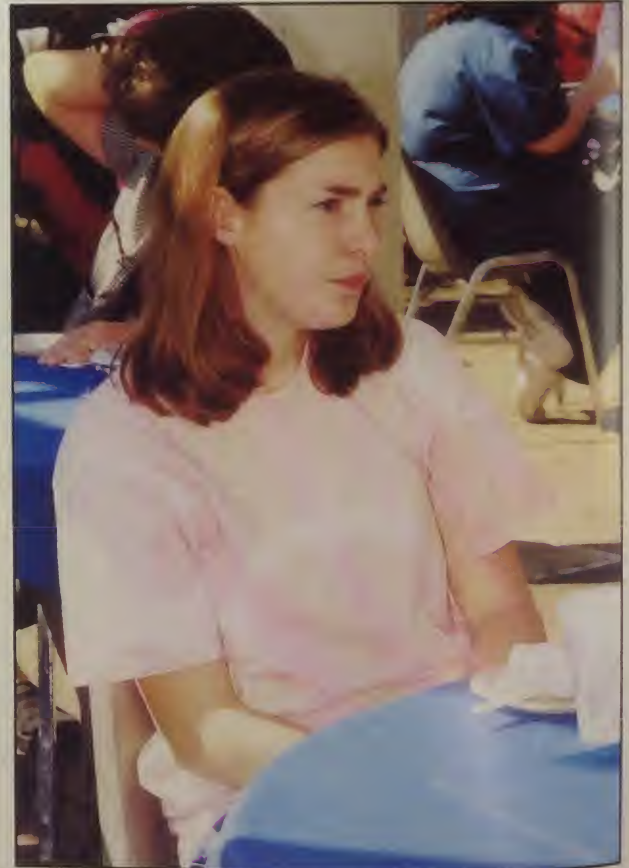

By Cassidy Simpson

From season to season, everything changes in different ways. The weather changes, clothes change, and classes change. Not only do daily activities change at Holmes, but people change as well.

"People are really friendly when school starts. I think everyone is ready to meet new people," said Brittany Lawrence, a sophomore from Kosciusko. In the beginning of the school year, there are a lot of parties and school social events to attend. People meet new friends and begin to get into the swing of things.

When winter begins to set in, people have established a daily routine. The spring semester brings about new classes. More new students move in and others move out. "The attitudes of the students begin to change and everybody is ready for summer," says Lawrence.

The freshmen are settled in to HCC life and sophomores are busy putting their future plans in order. As the school year begins to wind down, everyone is ready to pack up to go home and await the upcoming semester.

Summer: Prepare for a Change

By Linda Howell

Pens, pencils, notebooks, paper, binders, highlighters, white-out, and folders --- the lists and demands of beginning college goes on and on. Trips back and forth to Wal-mart become commonplace for college students.

Most beginning students aren't sure how to prepare themselves for college. If you think about it how can you really prepare yourself for something you've never done. Physically or mentally preparing for college brings about seasons of change.

One way to mentally prepare is to take college courses the summer before. "I took summer courses to get a headstart on credits", said freshman Kristen Dollar.

One way to physically prepare is if you're a dorm student, learning not to eat every time you go to your dorm.

Preparing for college is usually confusing and difficult, but once you get started and get used to it, it's really no big deal. Try to hope for the better and prepare for the best.

Fall: Activities of the Holmes Season

By Marquita Cooper

It's the time of season, it's the time of year, the Holmes fall festivities are finally here!

The activities here at Holmes for the fall season will include the football season starting, homecoming activities, the fall festival, and various clubs getting underway. The football season got underway with their first game of the season against East Central Community College. The first game was painted maroon and white as the Bulldogs won 27-12.

Though the whole season is important to the team it was winning the homecoming game that was the most important. The traditional homecoming festivities give everyone a chance to participate in the activities whether it is running for a particular position on the homecoming court, dressing in the specified attire chosen for each day, or just awaiting the parade followed by a spectacular pep rally. Homecoming gives everyone a chance to unwind and forget about classes as they take part in the big celebration on the day of the game with The Holmes Connection! and Chorale's first performance of the year, also with the big cookout, and live music from the Steel Drum Band. Since homecoming is not the only thing happening during the fall season, our up and coming fall festival will be approaching soon.

The fall festival will incorporate lots of great-tasting food, a variety of activities, and live music. For the Goodman Campus this festival will be our first one in years and we are going to make it a time we will never forget.

As for the clubs, they will be hosting several activities that will last all throughout the fall, from the Student Government Association's many activities to the traditional Sidewalk Cafe sponsored by the members of Phi Theta Kappa and other clubs on campus. These clubs come up with great day-to-day activities that help students take a load off after a day full of classes.

Family-Oriented winter -- Feelings of the Season

By Amber Carter, Co-Editor

It's near the end of the fall season and everyone is preparing for winter.

The leaves have all changed to various colors of brown, red, orange, and yellow, and the temperature has dropped. Students are beginning to unpack their blankets and warm clothes to prepare for the cool weather.

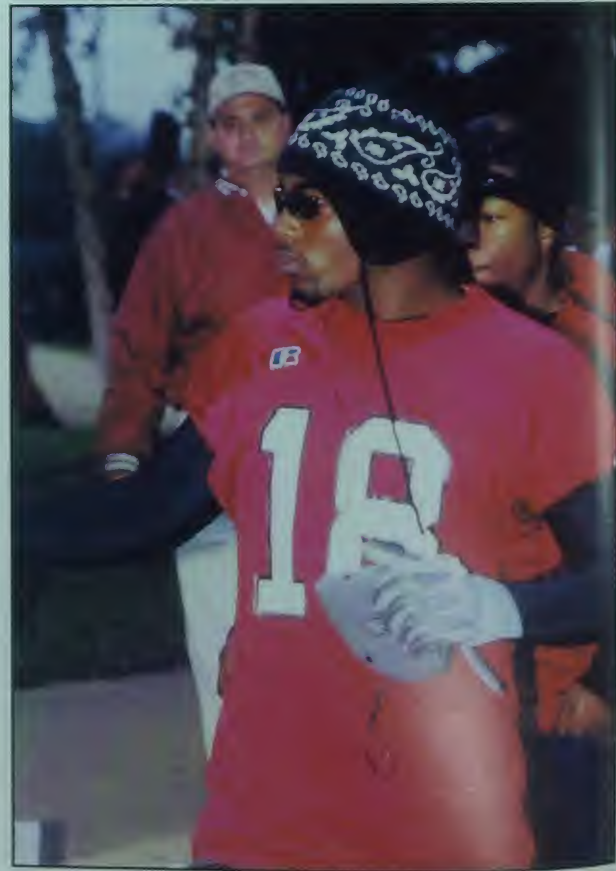

Not only do the temperature and the different features of nature change, but people change also. We tend to become more cheerful and more family oriented rather than worrying about the world around us.

Of course, everyone knows the holidays are associated with the winter season. Stores are beginning to display Christmas decorations, and people are shopping to make sure no one is left off of the Christmas list.

But how do students incorporate Christmas and the holiday season with school? If we were to take a walk around campus and into the dorms during the holiday season, we would see many different traditions brought to school from many different students. Dorm students bring family photos of past holiday events for everyone to see. Other things such as scented candles, miniature Christmas trees, small figurines, and mama's homemade cookies are also displayed around the room to bring a little holiday cheer.

As students bring these memoirs from home to school, conversation of Christmas begins. The girls on campus get together and ask advice about certain Christmas gifts, while planning extravagant shopping trips. But while the girls are gossiping and locating all of the major Christmas sales, the guys are putting on their camouflage and comparing old hunting stories, while deciding where to find the best hunting spot.

The winter season is a very special time of year for college students. Different campus activities mixed with a little family tradition, brings us closer together, thus making memories that will last a lifetime.

Spring -- Style, color, new clothes, Spring Fling

By Rebecca Blissard

Apart from the new classes, new students, and even new relationships, the spring season brings about a lot of changes.

From jackets and jeans to t-shirts and shorts, the spring introduces changes in style, weather, and new student activities.

"During the spring, being outside is a must because I feel like I'm in a better state of mind," said sophomore Rick Sanders.

Many students enjoy the different activities on campus during the spring season. Tennis, basketball and baseball are some of the exciting sports that take place on the Holmes campus during the spring.

Spring Fling approaches and the excitement of fun with friends overwhelms the students. Soon, the long awaited spring semester exams arrive causing some students to become hermits due to studying; but in the end, we all know that all of the studying pays off.

Putting it all together

By Dan Townsend, Co-Editor

Someone once said, "The only thing certain about life is how unpredictable it is." Considering how uncertain life usually is, this seems like a very true statement.

Amidst all this, it's nice to have some things in life that are predictable and expected.

Changing seasons are an example of this. No matter what's going on around, no matter how unreliable everything else is, the seasons are reliable. When school begins, the weather is hot and the sun scorches the campus. Little by little, autumn creeps in, the leaves change, and the t-shirts are replaced with long-sleeve shirts. Then comes the jackets, and sweaters, and Christmas is on everyone's mind. Then, by the time school is over, the weather is warming up again, and everyone's making plans for the summer.

There are a few words that are synonymous with the fall semester --- football, pep rallies, homecoming banners, soccer games, band performances, choir concerts. With as many clubs as there are here on campus, no one can rightly complain about having too much time on their hands. In the fall, the Creative Arts Club begins preparing for Coffee House, the Phi Theta Kappans are selling cheese to raise money for their spring conference, the members of Baptist Student Union are raising money for summer missionary trips, the Horizons staff is already putting the yearbook together, the Steel Drum band is practicing daily, the Growl staff is working frantically on the newspaper, The Holmes Connection! and the Chorale are preparing for their Christmas program, the Holme-Towne Players are preparing for their play, etc..

Then of course, in the midst of all this business, students still find time to make it to class, remembering that this is the "real" reason they are here.

The winter brings with it the end of football season, the beginning of basketball season, and the promise of enjoying a few weeks off during Christmas. Students get to enjoy fellowship with their family, and the world seems to slow down for a little while.

Amidst all of the busy college life and all the stressful schedules, it is nice to have something predictable like the changing seasons to fall back on. The most important thing to remember is to always live in the present, and not to postpone happiness to the future.

Staff Seasons -- From a different perspective

By Andrea Holontanko

Fall, spring, summer and winter. All of these are different from one another, but they are all appreciated by someone. People may enjoy the weather of a season but, on the other hand, they may not enjoy another aspect of that same season.

Howard Butler, a history teacher on the Goodman Campus, enjoys all seasons but his favorite is fall because of the pretty leaves. Not to mention that he doesn't have to mow the grass.

Patsy Rogers, secretary of admissions for the Goodman Campus, also enjoys fall because the cool weather is approaching; however, her favorite season is spring. Rogers says summer is the busiest time of the year in the admission's office. Summer school, pre-registration, and regular registration are just a few of the tasks that keep Rogers busy throughout summer. Aside from work, Rogers enjoys summer because she loves working in her yard. Riding her John Deere lawn mower gives her time to relax and release the stress of the day.

Michael Burchfield, biology instructor on the Goodman Campus, says that spring is his favorite season. But it is not a good time of the year to take astronomy because there aren't many clear nights, and it gets dark early. Burchfield says that astronomy is best to take in the fall because there are more clear days; however, he doesn't enjoy giving out bad grades as Christmas presents at the end of the semester. Burchfield likes winter but is always glad to see it end. He says, after all, without winter you can't appreciate spring.

Each faculty member and each person have their input of the seasons. All may be different but each season is enjoyable to someone.

HCC Continues Growth Under Dr. Morgan

As enrollment continues to rise and the physical plant continues to grow, Holmes Community College ranks itself with the best in Mississippi's community and junior colleges.

This growth is due to the leadership of Dr. Starkey A. Morgan, Sr. who is serving his 14th year as president of the institution.

From fall 2001 to fall 2002, Holmes saw a 9.5 percent increase in student enrollment, some three hundred students.

Academics at Holmes have been boosted due to the implementation of the Honors Program in 2001. The program, under the direction of Janet Simpson, saw enrollment in the honors classes increase 100 percent, Simpson said. The program expanded to the Ridgeland Campus as did the growth in honors classes.

The Holmes Community College football team claimed the state championship, 7-0, over Jones County Junior College.

During the summer of 2002, Dr. Morgan hired Prentiss Cole to run the Goodman Campus' Intramural Program, which allowed Holmes students to keep their competitive edge through basketball, softball, volleyball and many other activities.

Student activities on the Goodman Campus also was very evident under the direction of Leslie Spell. Student activities included the Winter Formal, Back to School Bash, Spring Fling, the beauty review, Homecoming activities, movie night, dances and numerous other activities throughout the year.

Jim Schroeder, speech instructor on the Goodman Campus, put together a cast who presented "A Christmas Carol" to Holmes' students and faculty as well as students and friends throughout the district.

The Holmes Community College Chapel "Chapel on the Hill" was set to be dedicated on the Goodman Campus during commencement exercises on May 16.

Also at Goodman, all athletic fields including softball, baseball and soccer/band fields were lighted for the first time in school history. The football field received new lights placed behind each stands and the old poles on the field were removed.

At the Grenada Center, an accreditation committee recommended that the associate degree nursing program be reaccredited for eight years with a follow-up visit set for two years.

Late in the 2001-2002 school year, Ridgeland Campus dedicated their 11,000 square foot media center. The soccer program was moved from Goodman to Ridgeland.

Dr. Morgan and his grandson, James Morgan Cotten, enjoy a nice fall day near McDaniel Hall on the Goodman Campus.

Dr. Morgan presents a plaque to longtime board member Ernie Adcock. Adcock retired from the board after 17 years.

Dr. Morgan presents a dozen roses to his wife, Martha, after her and Fine Arts's chairman Bill Watkins' performance of "Love Letters" in the Fine Arts Auditorium on the Goodman Campus.

'Bringing out the beauty in us'

Cosmetology profession is satisfying for both students, customers

By Liz Tucker

When one thinks of cosmetology, hair comes to mind. However, a cosmetologist is licensed to perform services on not only the head and face but also on the neck, shoulders, arms, hands, legs, and feet.

Cosmetology is a profession in which satisfaction comes from bringing out beauty and confidence in another person. Think about it. Cosmetologists not only touch people with their hands they are touching the person emotionally. Within the 20 minutes a person's in a salon, the cosmetologist has to determine the needs of the client and perform the request at hand. The cosmetologist is conscientious, and a person is not afraid to share with the one styling his/her hair.

In addition, a licensed cosmetologist can perform manicures and pedicures. Freshman LaTonya Smith is a part of cosmetology program offered by Holmes. A student talented for her manicures and pedicures has the potential for a promising career.

In addition to hands-on interaction, cosmetology students also have theory classes. Within this class students learn about the basic chemistry, electricity, basic anatomy, also business/salon management.

After completing school, cosmetology students are required to take the State Board

Cosmetology student Brittany Melton of Benton washes the hair of fellow student Jill Clolinger of Winona as part of her practical project. Hairwashing is one of many tasks that a cosmetologist performs every day.

Exam. This exam is to prove the capability of the student. The two-part exam consists of hands-on assignments and a written exam.

After entering the workforce the cosmetologist's license is only good for two to years, depending on the state requirements. Keeping up a license could mean a renewal fee, or furthering education to keep up with the latest trends.

In short, cosmetology is a difficult and rewarding career to maintain. Filled with many promises for a person to achieve if he/she is willing to work hard for their dreams.

Grenada Center adds more ENT classes

By Bobby Willis

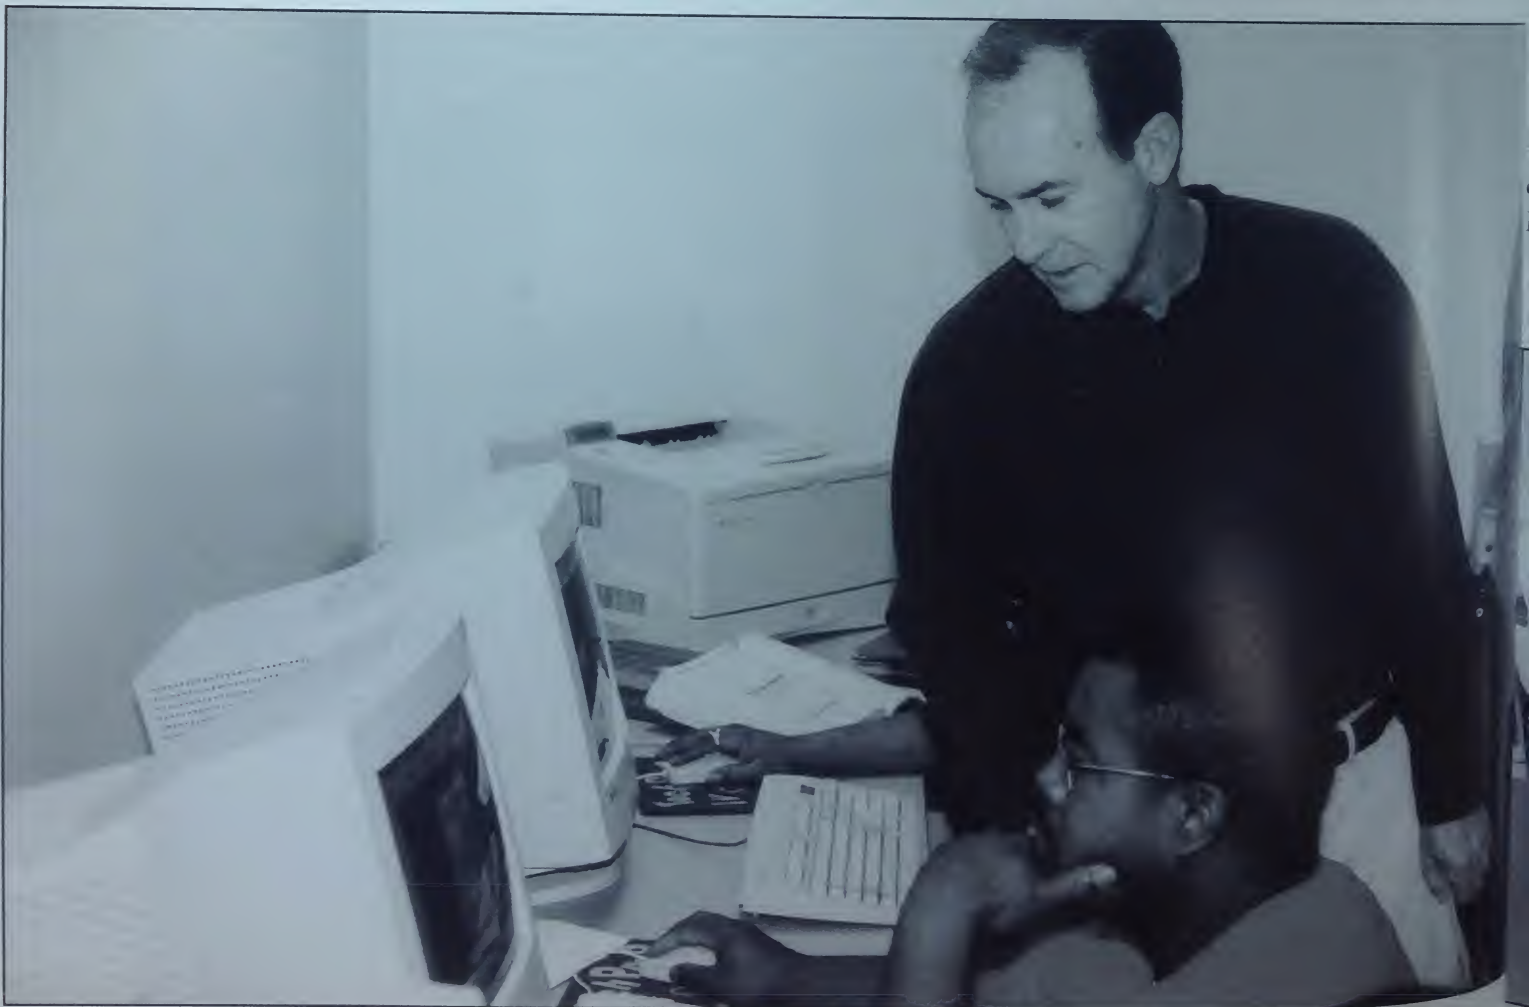

There are new courses available to students at Holmes Community College in Grenada Engineering Technology. Holmes already had this program but added more variety of classes to expand the existing program.

They brought the courses they had at Holmes in Goodman to the Grenada Center. Architectural engineering technology, construction engineering technology, drafting and design technology, industrial engineering technology and industrial technology have been added to the already existing program.

The purpose is to give students a chance of either advancing their education or joining the work force. "I would rather see students pursue their education," says John W. VanHorn, Science and Technology professor. "It could be the difference between 10 and 15 thousand dollars salary."

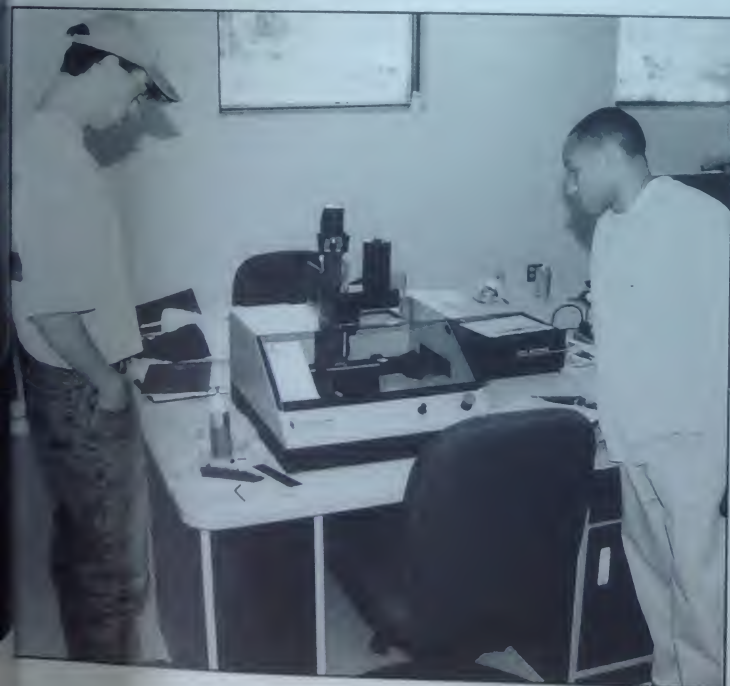

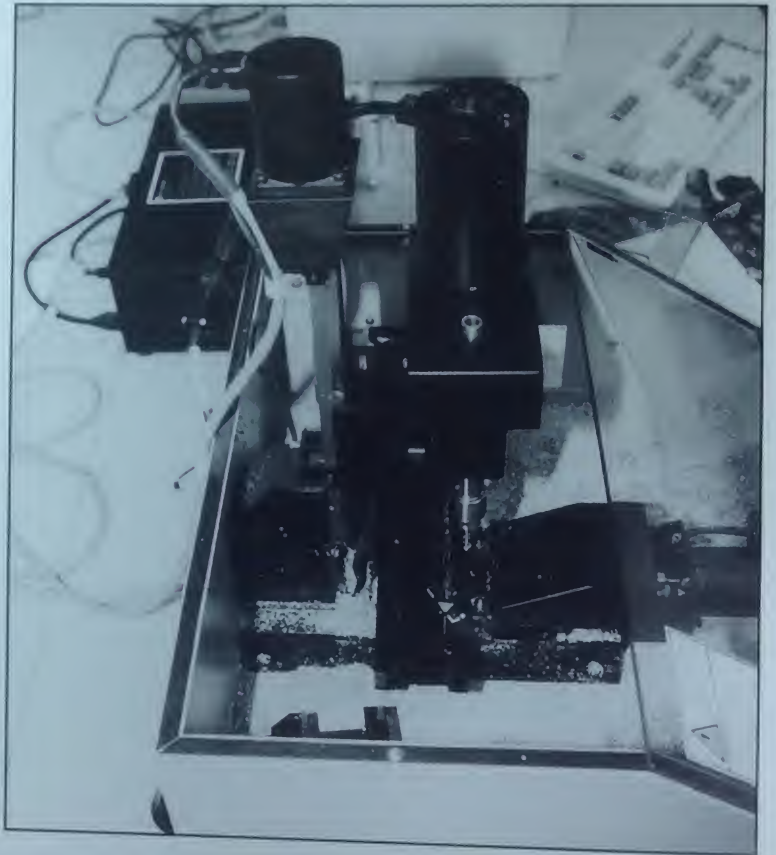

The courses are primarily three-hour credits. They consist of a good balance of lab and lecture. Most of the courses are hands-on and performance-based.

Honors Program numbers on the rise

Participation sees 100 percent increase in three semesters

By Andrea Holotanko

Holmes Community College has recently started an Honors Program on all three of its campuses. The Program is designed to prepare the students to go to a major university or to go out into the work force by helping with personal and academic areas.

The first semester having this program, fall 2001 on the Goodman Campus, very few students knew about it. Three semesters later there was a 100 percent increase in participation. In Goodman, participation in Honors English Composition I and II have doubled and Honors Speech tripled since the first semester of the program. Spring of 2003, Grenada has launched its first Honors English Composition II class.

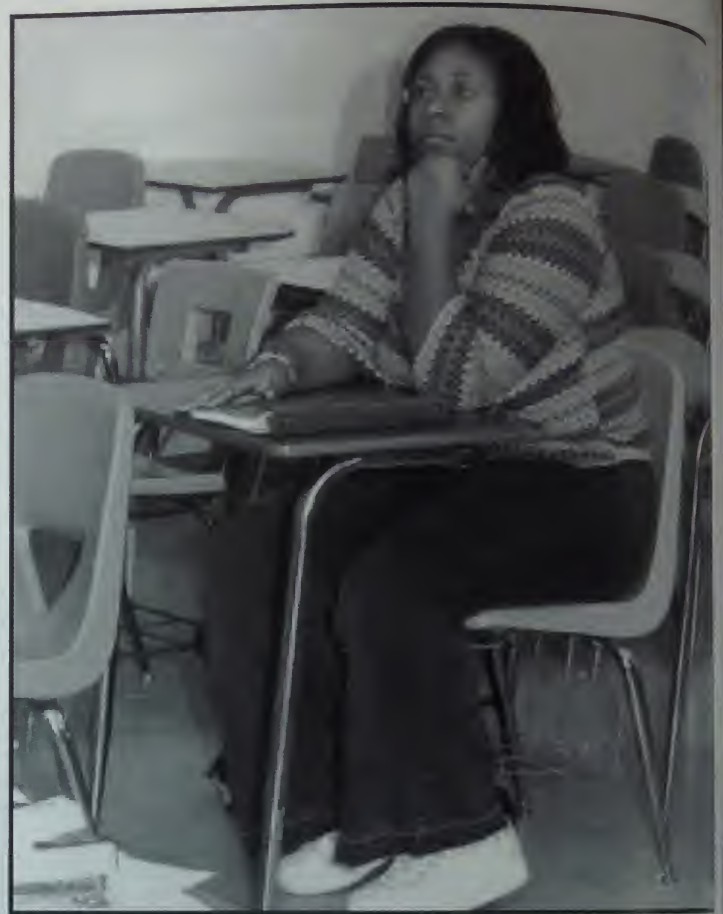

Much of this increase in participation may be due to the book scholarship that is offered to participating students. In order to be eligible for this scholarship, a student must be taking Honors Forum and one other honors class during the same semester. Students can receive a maximum of $200, depending on the costs of the books.

Each semester, on the Goodman Campus, Honors Forum has a full agenda of educational and fun things to learn about. Topics such as photography, dating etiquette, and personal finance are just a few of the areas explored by the class.

The program is fortunate to have people who will come and speak about some of these topics.

Janet Simpson, Honors Program Director and music instructor of the Goodman campus, says, "The Honors Program has enjoyed the support of the entire faculty. They have been able to help us with activities such as the print shop with Jenny Jones of the Goodman Campus, and musical performances with Steve Deaton of the Goodman Campus.

The combined Honors Forum classes from Ridgeland and Goodman toured St. Jude Research

Hospital in Memphis. The summer after 2004, the Honors Program plans to take a trip to the Northeast United States and possibly to Canada.

The student will have to pay for his or her own trip but the experience will be worth it, not to mention the three hours of Humanities credit received.

Simpson says, "I think it says a lot for our student body in general that they are willing to sign up for courses that are not required. They are mature enough to realize that it will help them to get a good job or get into a better school."

Holmes receives Halbrook Award

Athlete graduation rate increases 39 percent over previous year

Holmes Community College was the recipient of a John C. and Ernestine McCall Halbrook 2001-2002 Achievement Award.

The Halbrook Award for Academic Achievement Among Athletes was established in 1994. It is administered cooperatively by the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning, the State Board for Community and Junior Colleges and the Mississippi Association of Independent colleges. The purpose of the award is to recognize colleges and universities that maintain and achieve high academic standards for student athletes, thus encouraging high graduation rates.

Each year at the Mississippi Association of Colleges Conference trophies are presented in three divisions; public university, community and junior colleges and independent college.

Winners this year include: Mississippi Valley State University, men; Alcorn State University, women; Hinds Community College and Millsaps college.

A cash award is presented to the participating institution that has shown the greatest improvement over the previous year in the percentage of athletes graduating. Holmes Community College is the 2001-2002 recipient.

This award has been endowed by the Halbrook family in honor of their parents, John C. And Ernestine McCall Halbrook.

Holmes Community College increased its athlete graduation rate 39 percent over the previous year. Reports from 2000-2001 indicate a graduation rate of 22 percent; and in 2001-2002 the rate increased to 61 percent.

“We practice basketball, and we practice academics. This lets the kids know that we think academics is just as important as the athletics part.”

When Shurden joined the Bulldog coaching staff he said there was one mandatory study hall per week but that's since been changed to two.

Shurden said if one of the football players needs off for a study session and it happens to fall during film or weights, then they go to the study session.

“We have to concede to the kids' needs,” Shurden said. “We need to allow this if it is pertinent to academics.”

He said that Coach Andy Wood is the key to making sure the football players are doing what they need to do to stay eligible.

“Andy does an excellent job keeping up with absences, grades and progress reports,” Shurden said.

He said academics comes first and then athletics. “We want them to understand the importance of that,” he said. “They need to remain eligible here, but they also need to get out and go places to play football after they leave here.”

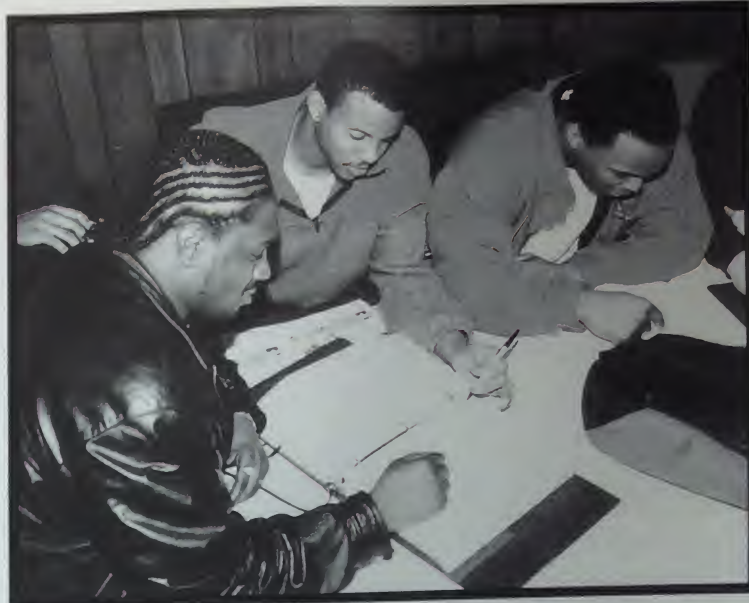

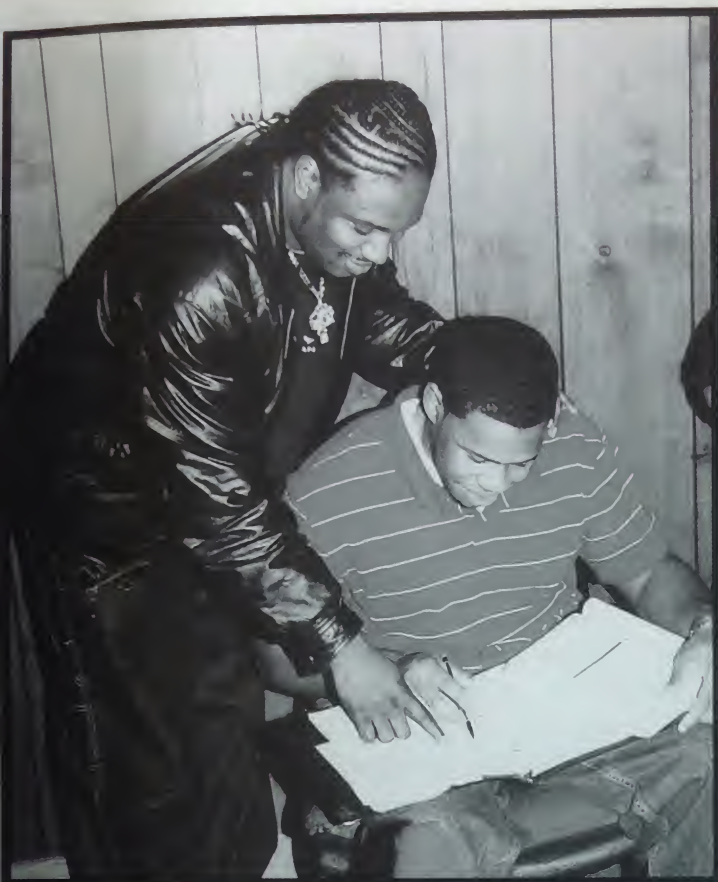

Shurden said he rewards good grades by allowing students with a 3.0 GPA to skip one of the study halls.

All of the football players report to the classroom in Frank B. Branch coliseum. The coaches then allow them to break down in groups --- math, English, etc. The different areas go to different areas to study.

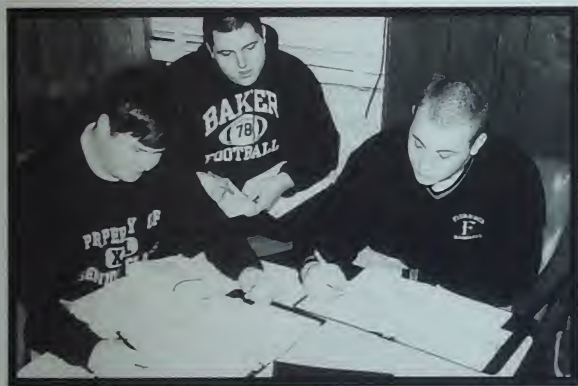

He said he's even let them go to the computer lab and library during this time, where they have to sign a card showing they were there. “They don't have a lot of free time so we let them do this,” he said.

Coach Todd Kimble agreed with Shurden.

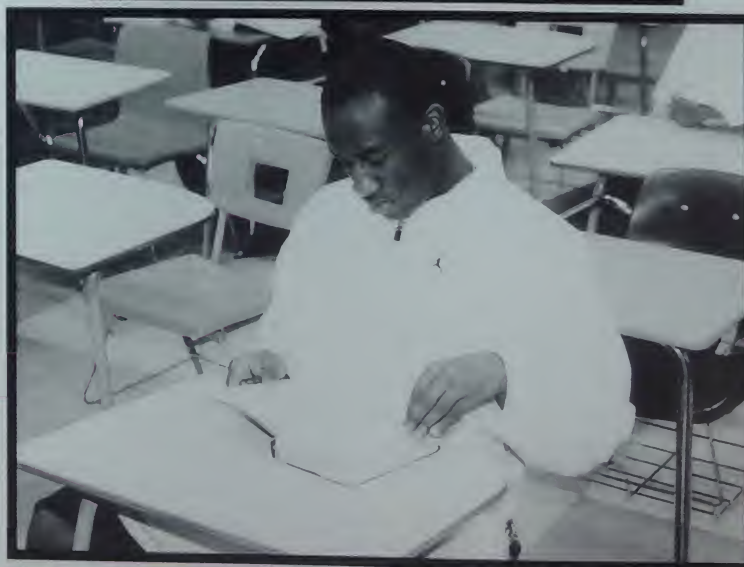

“From our standpoint, we know this is a time when we know they are working on the academic part of school,” Kimble said. “We know that during this time they are taking care of it. We practice basketball, we practice academics. This lets the kids know that we think academics is just as important as the athletic part.”

Michael Antonini has to set down his headphones during study hall so he can concentrate on his studies. The coaches call roll and then allow the players to break down into their study groups. Antonini chose to study on his own.

Shelton Richardson, who signed a letter of intent to play football at Louisiana Tech, gets some reading done during study hall. Coach Andy Wood and the other coaches make the surroundings suitable for all aspects of studying.

Harville, Richardson represent HCC in H.E.A.D.W.A.E.

Higher Education Teachers. She is a past president of the Pilot Club of Grenada.

Appreciation Day Working for Academic Excellence, or H.E.A.D.W.A.E., recognizes outstanding faculty members and students from each of the state's colleges.

The program was begun in 1988 by Cecil Simmons, a Mississippi State Representative. Those selected are invited in the spring to the state Capitol to spend the day. In addition to attending a luncheon in their honor they are presented to the Senate and House of Representatives.

This year's faculty representative, Myra Harville, is a psychology instructor at Holmes' Grenada Center. The student representative is Goodman Campus sophomore Breck Richardson.

Holmes representatives are selected by a committee appointed by Holmes President Dr. Starkey A. Morgan, Sr. The instructor's selection is on merit. The student's criteria includes grade-point average and difficulty of courses taken during tenure as a Holmes Community College student.

Faculty representative Harville has been an instructor at the Grenada Center for the last 15 years. In 1992 she was selected a Lamplighter. In addition the Holmes faculty member is a former Exchange Club Teacher of the Month; she is included among Who's Who Among America's Teachers. She is a past president of the Pilot Club of Grenada.

As adviser to the Grenada Center Phi Theta Kappa chapter Harville has been the recipient of two honors: a 1999 Benie Warren Outstanding Adviser Award and a 1998 Robert Giles Distinguished Adviser Award.

The H.E.A.D.W.A.E. faculty honoree makes her home in Grenada. She and her husband, Mark, have two sons, Mitchell and Philip.

Breck Richardson of Kosciusko is the son of Gene and Janice Richardson, both Holmes Community College staff members. The Holmes sophomore is a pre-med major with a 4.0 GPA.

The Kosciusko resident serves as the Goodman campus' Student Government president. In addition he is Phi Theta Kappa, international scholastic honor society, vice president of scholarship.

Currently Richardson is the Goodman Campus' Baptist Student Union growth chairman. In addition the tennis team member is a Holmes Ambassador and is a member of the Goodman Scholar's Bowl squad.

During the course of his freshman year Richardson served as the SGA vice president. The future pediatrician was also selected as a Freshman Favorite in the college's yearbook, "Horizons."

PTK nominates six students for All-State Academic Team

Six students from Holmes Community College were selected to represent the college as members of the 2002 Mississippi All-State Academic Team. This was coordinated by Phi Theta Kappa International Honor Society, the Mississippi Association of Community and Junior Colleges, the State Board for Community and Junior Colleges and the Courier Ledger.

Each chapter in the state chooses two of its members to represent them on the All-State Academic Team. The selection is based on the students' scholastic achievements, community involvement, leadership capabilities and college service activities. The judges choose 10 students as members of the first team based on their application, an essay written by the student and recommendations from faculty members.

Brandon Dyer

An architecture major on the Ridgeland Campus, Brandon Dyer was a member of Phi Theta Kappa both his freshman and sophomore years.

As a sophomore, Dyer served as Phi Theta Kappa, Alpha Mu Beta Chapter's vice president of service. He was a Jack Kent Cook Scholarship nominee. Dyer was also selected to serve as a Holmes Ambassador and a homecoming escort.

Ridgeland Campus competes in Ken Wooten Scholars Bowl

Once again Holmes Community College was well represented at the Ken Wooten Scholars Bowl at the University of Mississippi during the weekend of Feb. 21-22.

The Ridgeland Campus was the only campus to compete this year.

Each year, community colleges from across the state gather to compete in the competition.

Begun as a recruiting tool for Ole Miss, it has grown into much. It shows how much work has been done by each team. This work consists of learning how the questions will be asked, what type of questions will be asked, which player is the strongest in certain areas. You must work as a team, and that's where practice comes in.

Since the inception, both the Goodman and Ridgeland teams have brought home the first place trophy.

The University offers scholarships to the first, second and third place teams.

John Switzer and Rus Bishop served as sponsors for the Ridgeland team while Maria Edwards and Lindy McCain were sponsors for the Goodman team.

Students, Staff do their part to help "Fight the Bite"

By Jeffery Riley

During the last semester at Holmes Community College, a lot of people became scared when they heard about the dangerous West Nile Virus.

This deadly virus infected over 190 people and killed 12 of those.

Goodman sophomore Monica Hughes said she came into the house before it got too dark.

Hughes said she used lots of spray and stayed in the house most of the time. She wasn't scared of getting infected.

Goodman sophomore Sherry Dennis found out where the bad areas were.

In the area that she lives in, which is Leake County, only a horse got infected with the West Nile Virus.

Dennis said she bought a lot mosquito repellent. She said she sprayed around the house, wore long sleeve shirts, and kept her kids in the house most of the time.

Goodman sophomore Athaiah Edwards tried not to leave the house a lot, if she did she wore long sleeve shirts.

Edwards said she kept her eyes open to make sure there weren't any mosquitoes flying around her.

She said she used lots of bug spray and if she got bit she put something on it and went to the doctor to make sure that she didn't have the West Nile Virus.

She also stayed away from open water like ponds because that's where they said most of the mosquitoes lingered.

Stephanie Scott of Pickens, a sophomore on the Goodman Campus was shocked when she heard about the West Nile Virus. She felt sorry for anybody that was infected by this disease.

"This disease harmed a lot of people and animals," Scott said. "Many people were killed and others were hospitalized."

Scott said a cure needs to be found for this disease because if they don't it will do more harm to other people and animals than it already has done.

Holmes Community College did their part in trying to keep the mosquitoes away.

Goodman Campus employee Joey Netherland, a maintenance engineer, sprayed three nights a week.

Netherland said it took him about one and one-half hours to spray on Sunday, Tuesday, and Thursday.

Netherland said he was not scared of the disease, and he did everything he could to help protect the campus.

It is a harmful disease, so needs to be recognize Netherland said.

Netherland treated problem areas such as ditches with water. He killed flying mosquitoes. He also killed the eggs to break the cycle.

The chemicals used by the maintenance department were Permanone RTU 2X 2.5 using about two gallons each night.

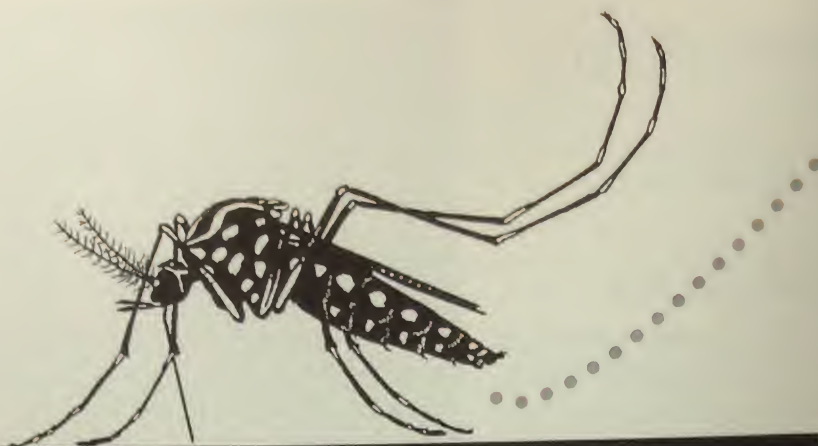

The ditches were treated with Zodiac. The Zodiac lasted for twenty-one days and killed larva and eggs before they became mosquitoes. The Zodiac broke the cycle before they began.

During the summer and early fall, the Mississippi State Department of Health sent out several warnings about the West Nile Virus.

The biggest thing was to avoid mosquito bites whenever possible.

According to the MSDH the risk of a healthy person's getting WNV from a mosquito bite is "very low." People older than 50 years of age have the highest risk of severe disease.

Mississippi likely will report more human cases. The number of cases will depend on how well people protect themselves and how well communities protect their citizens.

Fight The Bite

Protect Yourself

* WNV can be transmitted through the bite of an infected mosquito.

- * Avoid mosquitoes whenever possible. Stay indoors or take personal protective measures, especially at dawn and dusk.
- * Use mosquito repellent with DEET according to the label.
- * Spray clothing with repellents containing permethrin or DEET since mosquitoes can bite through thin clothing.
- * Wear long sleeved, long-legged clothing with socks and shoes whenever possible outdoors.

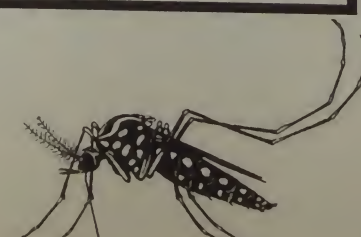

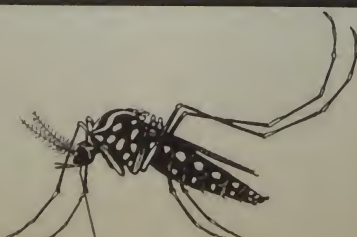

Protect Your Home

- * Reduce the source- the most effective and economical method toward long-term mosquito control.
- * Empty plants and containers of stagnant water.
- * Properly dispose of used tires.
- * Clean rain gutters, bird baths, and swimming pools.
- * Eliminate pools of standing, stagnant water, especially with organic debris.
- * Repair damaged or torn window and door screens.
- * Close garbage can lids. Be sure water does not collect in the bottom of garbage cans.
- * Check around construction sites or do-it yourself improvements to ensure that proper backfilling and grading prevent drainage problems.

And Your Community

- * Call your local health department to report all species of dead birds.
- * Find Health Info and county health department numbers under Health Department in the BellSouth White Pages.
- * Submit blue jays and crows only. Wearing gloves, double-bag the bird. Keep the bird cool (under refrigeration) until you take it to the local health department.
- * Learn what your local government is doing to control mosquitoes. Ask how you can help.
- * Remind or help neighbors to eliminate problem on their property.

Dedication

For the last 24 years, the names Dale Lewis and Gladys Lewis and Holmes Community College have gone hand-in-hand.

However, this quarter-century deals with only the time they have been employees of Holmes Junior and Holmes Community College. They were students here in the 60's.

After attending Holmes Junior College, Dale Lewis attended Mississippi State University where he received his bachelor of science degree. He also received a master's degree in education from MSU with additional study at MSU, the University of Mississippi and the University of Southern Mississippi.

Their professional careers have spanned many divisions at Holmes Community College with most of the time being devoted to the vocational-technical field.

Dale came to Holmes in 1979 as the Learning Resource Manager. He remained in vo-tech until 1999 serving as Vice President for Community and Workforce Development. After the death of Henry B. McClellan, Jr., he was named Executive Vice President and Business Manager.

Tottie also served many areas in the vocational-technical field before being named Executive Secretary to Dr. Starkey A. Morgan, Sr. in 1995. While in vo-tech beginning in 1983, she served as a research aide working in the LPN program and the JTPA program.

The Lewises have two children, Sheri and Wendy and four grandchildren, Hunter, Britt, Kaylee and River.

It is for their service and commitment to the college district-wide, that this, the 74th edition of Horizons is dedicated to Dale and Tottie Lewis.

Every day is a new day. Whether it's dressing like cowboys or cowgirls or dressing like hippies, you can explore your creative side during this special week every year. It doesn't matter what you like to do because there are activities for everyone to enjoy.

There's always a Homecoming dance, parade and pep rally. Phi Theta Kappa sponsored their usual Sidewalk Cafe while SGA had many activities in the Grove.

'Valentine's Day proved to be perfect theme for Winter Formal

Students enjoy Winter Formal

By Leslie Spell

The Student Government Association sponsored HCC's third annual Winter Formal. This year's theme was "With all my Heart."

Valentine decorations, music, refreshments, and dancing were all a part of this special event.

SGA began planning this dance well in advance. T-shirts were ordered, the theme was decided, and decorations were ordered.

The Canteen was draped in red and white gossamer, and filled with red, white, and pink balloons, creating the perfect ambiance for a Sweetheart dance.

There were door prizes and refreshments served by candlelight. Continuing with tradition, Disc Jockey Susy's Sounds magically pulled the crowd together. From the soul train line to the Electric Slide, students had a great time showing off their dance moves.

Clothing ranged from tuxes and prom dresses to jeans and t-shirts. Homecoming Queen, Jodie Kirk said, "The D.J. was good and it was a lot of fun!" Good food, friends, and fun made this year's winter formal a night to remember.

The decorations are one of the main ingredients to having a successful dance. Above, top left, Yassi Alashti places balloons around the Canteen after Daphne Skeen and Alison Watkins, top right, finish putting the helium in them. On November 25, 2002, Holmes Community College held its annual Parade of Beauties competition in the Frank Branch Coliseum on the Goodman Campus. Fifty-seven girls participated in the pageant with the theme of "Simply Irresistible."

For the first evening gown competition, the top-10 semifinalists were Beverly Hutchinson, Amanda Johnsey, Jennifer Jones, Alicia Kirk, Elizabeth Minninger, Brittany Melton, Emily Melton, Sarah Scott, Jessica Stevens, and Maghen Ward.

Those ten girls then participated in the second

This year's judges were Brent Hisaw, Grenada; Edward Price II, Greenville; and Ann Windham, Kosciusko. They rated each girl on beauty, appearance, and poise.

The master of ceremonies was art instructor Bill Watkins of the Goodman Campus.

The entertainment for the evening was provided by Laranda Moffett of Starkville. Angie Blain and Ceressa Sims, of the Goodman Campus staff were the pageant directors.

'Giving it all they've got'

Richardson, Flanagan take advantage of many clubs, activities

By Marquita Cooper

Every college campus in the United States has some type of organization or extracurricular activity that students can participate in to strengthen their leadership skills. At most campuses the students who show exceptional leadership abilities are recognized by receiving awards or some other type of appreciation. Here on the Goodman campus there are students who have that type of leadership persona that exemplifies what being a leader is all about and we have decided to show appreciation to Lakeshia Flanagan and Breck Richardson for their outstanding commitment they have made to partake in the variety of extracurricular activities and social clubs sponsored here.

Lakeshia Flanagan has had a lot of great things happen to her while at Holmes. A Kosciusko sophomore who is majoring in elementary education is a role model for all. She is the assistant secretary for the Future Educators of America, outreach ministries chairman for the Baptist Student Union leadership team, she was a color guard for the band, an ambassador, Student Government Association representative, HCC student body maid and now has been awarded the title of Miss HCC.

Flanagan believes strongly in students taking part in extracurricular activities and social organizations. She feels that it is a good way to get involved and it is a great way to meet new people. A leader to her is a person who is responsible and has good moral standards because a leader is like a role model, the people around Holmes look up to them and they expect someone who is an all-around good person.

Breck Richardson is a person with high expectations. A Kosciusko native who is currently enrolled as a sophomore pre-med student plans to further his education at the Mississippi College and then on to the University Medical Center for med school to become a doctor.

Being a Holmes Ambassador is an important job to both Flanagan and Richardson. Above, Flanagan, Richardson and fellow Ambassador Jesse Dorroh look through cards from interested students. Below, Flanagan and Richardson key information into adviser Janice Richardson's computer.

While attending Holmes, he has achieved so much by becoming the president of the Student Government Association, co-captain of the tennis team, growth chairman of the Baptist Student Union leadership team, an ambassador, he holds a position on the scholar's bowl team and has been chosen for Mr. HCC.

Leadership to him is very important. He believes that without leadership a student's stay in college is only what they make of it and if people don't get involved they are less likely to meet a lot of new people.

Students are not here to get just an education; they are here to make a difference in someone's life, and Lakeshia Flanagan and Breck Richardson have done just that.

Another area in which the two excelled was in the Student Government Association. Richardson, left, served as SGA president and escorted Sabrina McGee during Homecoming 2002 exercises while Flanagan was student body maid and was escorted by Seddrick Branch.

Richardson is also a member of the Holmes tennis team. Here he is in action during his freshman year.

"A Christmas Carol"

Thousands view Holme-Towne Players' latest masterpiece

By Jennifer Thompson

It has long been a tradition for Holme-Towne Players to present a play in the fall. Jim Schroeder, Holmes drama instructor and director, wanted to produce a play that was familiar to the cast and grab the attention of the audience. After weeks of considering different possible plays, he finally decided to cast Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol." He felt everyone was familiar with this play and would enjoy watching or taking part in it during the Christmas season. Schroeder knew it would take a lot of time and effort, but he had faith that the Holme-Towne Players could make the production memorable for everyone.

It took seven long weeks to prepare and rehearse the play. The Holme-Towne Players managed to do most of the work for the play themselves except the set and costumes. The costumes were rented and an outside source was brought in to assist with the building of the set. "The set looked great, gave a real feel for the play and provided a comfortable setting for the actors," said Schroeder. The cast and crew did not let him down throughout the entire process of making "A Christmas Carol" a hit.

The opening night was December 3. Three night productions were open to the public with around 1500 spectators attending. A free matinee for local high school seniors was also well attended. Schroeder said, "The turnout was excellent and I hope we can have a turnout like that for every play. I enjoyed working with everyone putting this play together and making it a success." He hopes to expand the attendance by presenting other productions that are familiar to the viewing audiences.

Clubs offered excitement in 2003

Students had plenty to do during the year

By Dan Townsend
Co-Editor

At Holmes Community College, there is a wide variety of clubs to get involved in. Each of these clubs is intended to be a place where students with specific interests can come and have fun, as well as learn.

The Creative Arts Club is geared toward students with interests in things such as poetry writing, short story writing, songwriting or performing. Each semester, a night is set aside in the Art building for the Creative Arts Club to have their Coffee House. This is an evening, usually lasting three hours or so, where students can come and share poetry, sing songs, and perform skits among other things. Coffee House is open for the entire student body to participate in, and is not limited to club members only. Steve Deaton, the club's current advisor, generally performs a few classics, as well as a few original songs from his own back Buffalo Nickel. Vice-president of the club, freshmen Lindsay Waters, said, "The club was somewhat inactive a few years ago, but when Mr. Deaton came, he wanted to revamp things. He initiated the idea of Coffee House, and it has gotten steadily more popular over time."

Another prominent club on campus is Phi Beta Lambda. The faculty advisor for this group is Jenny Jones. This is a club geared toward students who are either majoring in business, or have a good deal of interest in business. To be eligible for membership, a student must be enrolled in at least one business class. Fund raising is a large part of what Phi Beta Lambda is involved in on campus. To attend the Mississippi State Leadership Conference, the club participated in the Sally Foster Gift Wrap fund raising. In another effort to raise money, the club sold 2x3 Holmes banners that fit on a decorative flagpole.

One of the most active clubs on campus is the Student Government Association. Leslie Spell is the faculty advisor for this group. On the evening before school started in the fall, the SGA held a Back to School Bash in the Grove, which drew quite a crowd. They provided food, games, and a t-shirt give-away, among other things. During Homecoming week, the SGA sponsored a dance, a parade, as well as a meal in the Grove. In November a Fall Festival was scheduled, but was unable to be carried out due to bad weather. Every spring, the SGA holds the annual Spring Fling cookout which is always very popular among the students. Lakeshia Flanagan, a Sophomore SGA representative from Kosciusko, said, "It's a good organization because our activities are centered around the students and the faculty. We provide activities where everyone can interact together, and it enables people to meet new friends."

For students looking to find a religious-oriented club, the Wesley Foundation, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, and the Baptist Student Union are available. The Wesley Foundation is campus ministry affiliated with the United Methodist Church. Meetings were held in the McMorrough Library on Monday evenings and consisted of a time for prayer and Bible Study. One Tuesday evenings, the BSU held their weekly meetings at the Baptist Student Center, and their meetings were made up of singing, worship, music and listening to a speaker give a brief message. Additional activities that the BSU sponsored were dorm devotions, held weekly in the Men's and Women's dorms.

Altogether, there are so many clubs to get involved in at Holmes. Getting active in a campus group makes it much easier to make new friends, adjust to college life and makes the time go by much more smoothly.

Bulldogs claim first state cham

ELLISVILLE — Five takeaways, three huge defensive stops in the waning minutes of the fourth quarter, and a 69-yard jaunt by speedy Terrance Fleming tells the story in Holmes Community College's first state football championship since 1981.

The Bulldogs, 9-2, defeated the 8-3 Jones County Junior College Bobcats 7-0 here Saturday afternoon in the MACJC title game giving the Bulldogs not only the state title but also the Region XXIII title and Coach of the Year Honors for Head Coach Hugh Shurden.

"Well, once again our defense played great all year long," Shurden said. "This was no surprise to me. They had a great offensive game plan, but our defense had some big stops, big plays.

"They had no takeaways except on our punts," he said. "This team has done that all year. We bent but didn't break."

Shurden said having over half the team as sophomores made the difference for the Bulldogs.

"That's the key," Shurden said. He said this defensive team was similar to the defensive team of 1996, the last time the Bulldogs went to the state title game but fell to Hinds. That team featured 16 sophomores compared to the 29 of this season.

"The main difference in this team is the majority of them are all players," he said. "The 1996 team was mainly up front. You win championships with defense."

Shurden said having players with experience and quality backups such as Eddie Ledger, Larry Washington and Dwight Summerville made the difference on defense along with Rubio Phillips, who is a freshman.

The Bobcats took possession late in the first quarter at their own 29 and moved quickly into Bulldog territory at the 17 after Leak found Alonzo Nix on a 28-yard pass from the Bulldog 45. Jones ran one play to the 14 before Bulldog linebacker Jimmie Simmons picked up the Bobcat fumble at the 14.

Simmons made a huge defensive play last week against Pearl River as he intercepted a Wildcat pass that resulted in Matt Jones' game-winning field goal that sent the Bulldogs to the championship game.

After a Bulldog punt to the 35, Jones came back at the Bulldogs again. Leak hit Kemmie Lewis on a 28-yard pass to the Bulldog 32. Leak then ran once to the 28 before the drive later stalled, forcing Nicholas Terracina to attempt a 45-yard field goal that was no good.

Later in the second quarter, Jones got the ball back at their own 24. The Bobcats gained three first downs to the Bulldog 40. Bobby Keyes ran once to the 37 before the Bobcats fumbled again, and sophomore defensive end Joe Sykes and sophomore defensive lineman Tracy Flounoy both pounced on the ball for the Bulldogs with 5:10 left in the first half.

After a Bulldog punt to the Bobcat 36, Jones went back to work as Leak found Tim Barnett to the Holmes 49. Leak then hit Lewis to the 37. Two plays later, Leak hit Lewis to the 26 for another first down. Two plays later he hit Nix to the Bulldog 10. Greg Wash ran once to nine before Leak threw an incompletion. A play later, sophomore safety Grant Horton stepped in front of Leak's

The Bulldogs got the ball to open the second half and were forced to punt. After a 17-yard return by Chris Swain to the Bulldog 38, Leak threw one incomplection before Keyes ran to the 31. On third down, Leak broke free to the Bulldog nine before fumbling the ball to sophomore linebacker Bryan Shumaker. Shumaker picked up the loose ball and raced it to the Bulldog 35.

Jones got the ball back in the third quarter at the Bulldog 26. Keyes ran three consecutive times to the Bulldog 17 where Terracina was to attempt a 35-yard field goal. A mishandled snap resulted in no points for the Bobcats as the holder was tackled at the 26.

After an offside penalty against Jones, Fleming broke free on the 69-yard touchdown. Jones' kick made the score 7-0.

Fleming said the play was a toss. "I got through the line and saw a crease," Fleming said. "I hit the crease and split the defense and took it to the house."

"Last year we had a lot of adversity on the team," Fleming said. "We knew we had to pull it together to do this. We were a good unit, and we stuck together. The hard work in the offseason paid off."

On the touchdown run, Holmes inserted backup quarterback freshman, Michael Taylor, into the game as quarterback and left Richardson as one of the running backs.

"We've done this before," Shurden explained. "We want to utilize his talents, and we figured he would draw a lot of attention. It allowed Fleming to be a little open on the play."

The Bobcats came right back at the Bulldogs. Their drive this time started at their own 24. Leak found Tyrone Henry to the 32 before Wash got the first down at the 36. Leak then ran to the 46 for another first down. Wash then carried two consecutive times to the Holmes 43 for another first down. Leak then threw an incomplection before he found Nix to the Bulldog 36. On third down, sophomore defensive back Willie Williams intercepted Leak at the 29 and raced it to the Bulldog 39 before being tackled.

The Bulldog defense came up with three big defensive stops in the fourth quarter. The first came after Jones had marched from their 49 all the way to the Bulldog 10. On fourth and one, the Bulldog defense stopped

Leak just short of the first down marker.

After a Bulldog punt, Jones got the ball back at their own 43. Leak threw two incomplections before running to the 48. On fourth down, his pass fell incomplete with 2:53 left in the game.

Another punt gave the Bobcats the ball back again at their own 20. Leak found Tyrone Hosey to the 34 for a first down. After two incomplections, he then found Nix to the Bulldog 48 for another first down. After an incomplection, Leak ran to Bulldog 40 on two different tries. On fourth down, Leak found Henry to the 41, three yards short of a first down.

Fleming led the Bulldogs in rushing with 68 yards on three carries while freshman fullback Sedric Clay had 50 yards on 17 carries.

Cheerleaders help lead the Bulldog football team to the state title

The Holmes Community College 2002-2003 Cheerleaders made themselves even more known this year mainly because you never knew where they might pop up.

Traditionally, pep rallies are held on late Wednesday afternoons for a Thursday game and Thursday for a Saturday game. This season pep rallies were held during activity period on gameday as well as Wednesday afternoon and night.

The cheerleaders performed all over the Goodman campus as well. It was just behind Yazoo Hall or the Grove at Homecoming 2002. They were everywhere from the Old Gym to Carroll Cafeteria to the Grove and so on.

Changes in their routines surely paid off. Mainly the new golden Bulldog made a change in all of us. The dedication continued through basketball season.

Soccer ends first season back on Holmes' Ridgeland Campus

by Bryan Davis

Staff writer

There are many available sports to choose from on Holmes Community College campuses. Probably the one with the lowest profile is the men's soccer team on the Ridgeland Campus. After a brief hiatus the team was reactivated and played a fall schedule.

Coached by Matt Convertino, the team finished a disappointing season winning only one of their games. Sophomore Eric Forest led the squad along with freshman Matt Reece from Madison.

The soccer team was faced with problems from the start. The team's goalkeeper fractured his cheekbone in the first game of the season. With Mitchell Tucker becoming a casualty, he was forced to remain on the sidelines for the duration of the season.

The goalkeeper's absence was just one of many calamities to stall the Bulldogs—injuries, cancelled games, loss of team members; all combined to hand the young team a little more than they could handle in obstacles not of their own making.

Convertino was hired late. He is originally from Yutica, New York. He said,

Bulldogs make it to finals of Region XXIII; fall to Rangers

The men's basketball team's run at a national tournament appearance came up short here Thursday night, March 6, as the Bulldogs fell to Northwest Mississippi Community College, 73-77, in the finals of the Region 23 Tournament at Mississippi College.

The Bulldogs finished off an impressive year at 22-6, which included a North Division title with a 11-1 record, the first since the 88-89 season.

The Bulldogs advanced to the finals by knocking off Pearl River on Wednesday, March 5, and East Central on Monday, March 3. Northwest got to the title game by defeating Gulf Coast and Southern University at Shreveport.

Northwest jumped out to a 3-0 lead with 18:35 in the game and increased the lead to six with 16:07 to go in the first half. The Bulldogs then got their first lead of the game with 12:14 left in the first half on a three-pointer by Brian Cronin.

Holmes increased the lead to 16-12 with 10:36 to go after two-point shot from Sandrell Spann. Northwest then tied the game at 16 with 9:20 to go and took a two-point lead with 8:34 left in the half at 16-18.

Northwest led by as many as five before a Cronin three-pointer gave Holmes another lead at 23-22 with 3:35 left in the first half. Northwest then hit five straight baskets in the last 2:15 to hold a nine-point lead at halftime, 23-32.

The Rangers then increased the lead to 18 points with 15:54 remaining in the game. The lead remained at 12 with 1:28 remaining. The Bulldogs then scored six straight to pull within six at 67-73 after shots from Spann, Amaretto Plunkett and Quentin Pryor.

Northwest the increased the lead back to eight before Jeremy Cable hit a three-pointer with nine seconds to go in the game to make the score 70-75. Northwest then added two free throw before Plunkett hit a three-pointer with two seconds remaining to make the score, 73-77.

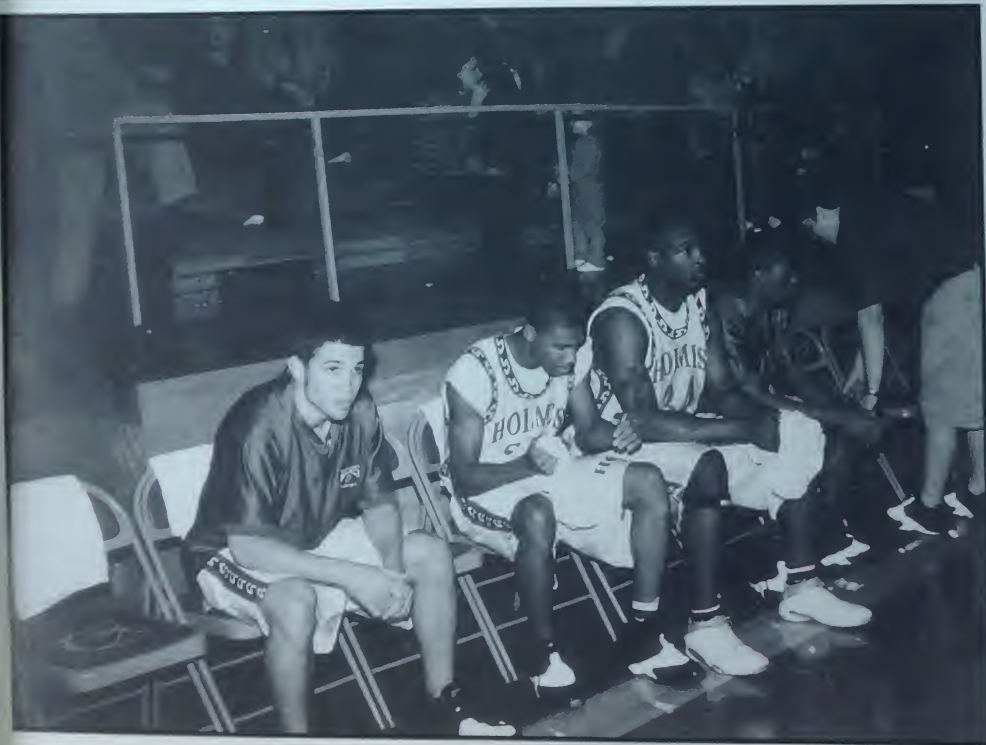

Spann led the Bulldogs in scoring with 17 points followed by Cronin's 14 and Cable's 13. Plunkett, Pryor and Jermaine Willis each had seven and Marcus Hines six.

Lady Bulldogs finish .500 season with state tourney berth

The Holmes Community College women's basketball team won three straight North Division games to earn a berth in the state tournament at Co-Lin on Feb. 24.

Three wins over Itawamba, East Mississippi and Mississippi Delta propelled the Lady Bulldogs into the tournament, where they faced Southwest and lost a heartbreaker, 72-75.

The loss made the Lady Bulldog season come to a close at 13-13 overall and 7-5 in the North Division.

After splitting two games with Southwest in the regular season, the Lady Bulldogs knew the state tournament game would be an evenly matched one.

The two teams didn't disappoint fans at Copiah-Lincoln Community College, the host of the MACJC tournament. The game was nip-and-tuck the entire time with many lead changes on both sides of the court.

Sophomore Melissa Winters helped the Lady Bulldogs jump out to an early 13-8 lead after hitting two three-pointers with 15 minutes remaining in the first half.

Southwest took their first lead at 15-16 with 11:03 left in the first half. On the Lady Bulldogs next possession, Jennifer Andrews hit a two-point shot with 10:15 left to give the Lady Bulldogs their next lead in the first half at 19-18. Southwest got the lead back and increased it to seven with three minutes remaining in the first half.

The Lady Bulldogs made a run to close out the half as Carmen Brown and Latrice Rone each hit two-points shots and Lakendra Barksdale hit a three-pointer to make the score 35-37 at halftime.

Southwest then pulled ahead at 48-60 with 11:30 left in the game.

Katunia Levy hit the first two-point bucket. Andrews then added a two-point bucket and a free throw to make the score 63-67. After a Southwest score, Winters then hit a two-point shot and Megan Colona put back an offensive rebound for two points to make the score 67-69.

Southwest then added two more before Winters then hit a big three on the Lady Bulldogs' next possession to make the score 70-71 with 17.6 seconds left. Southwest then hit two free throws to pull out again by three, 70-73.

Levy added a layup with 2.6 seconds in the game to pull within one point. Southwest's then added two late free throws.

Colona led Holmes with 16 points while Winters had 15. Rone and Timms each added nine, Levy seven, Barksdale six, Andrews five, Keisha Brown three and Carmen Brown two.

Lady Bulldog point guard Jennifer Andrews tries to dribble around an East Central player but is fouled.

Bulldogs look for third trip into Top 20 in three years

By Jennifer Thompson

SWING BATTER BATTER, SWING! The Holmes Community College baseball fans will be saying this starting February 15, 2003. The Baseball Bulldogs are playing their first game of the 2003 season against Johnwood College of Illinois.

"We have more freshman on the team that we have had in a long time, but with the excellent sophomore leadership we have, I am sure we will be extremely successful," says head Coach Kenny Dupont. Coach Dupont has faith in the team to be in the national rankings for the third year running. In 2001, the Baseball Bulldogs were ranked 20th, and in 2002 the Baseball Bulldogs were ranked 18th.

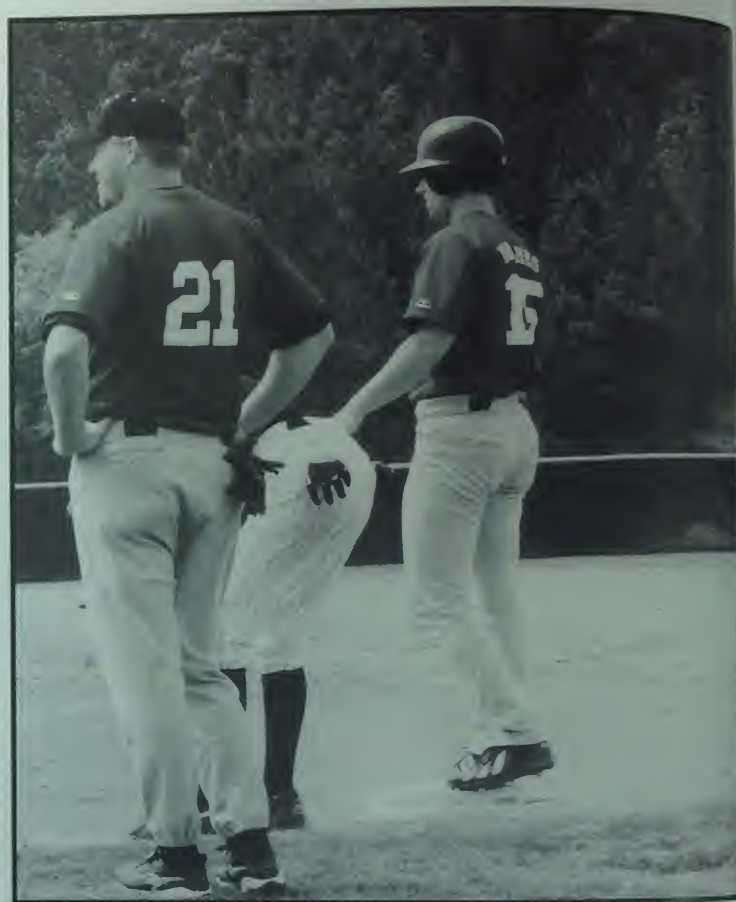

"We hope to have just as much luck this season as we have had the last two seasons." Dupont said. With the great leadership skills shown by the sophomores, the hustling, and the playing hard, Coach Dupont does not doubt for one minute that they have a great chance on being in the playoffs and possibly nationally-ranked.

The long practices and extended hours spent in fitness center keeps the team's free time to a minimum. Despite the time-consuming hours spent for baseball, the team must share dedication between the playing field and the classroom. The classroom dedication pays off considering many of the baseball players are members of Phi Theta Kappa, a two-year college international honor society.

The fans that come to the games to view the talent of the Baseball Bulldogs of Holmes Community College are very loyal. They come out to support the team with great enthusiasm. This gives the team even more encouragement to play harder. The fans have also given the Baseball Bulldogs a nickname, dirt bags.

"The way we got the

nickname, dirt bags, is because when the team comes off the playing field our uniforms are usually dirty from all the playing hard and hustling. The fans even make signs calling us dirt bags; the team likes the name so it has just stuck with us though the seasons," Dupont said.

"Our main goal for the 2003 season is just to play hard, hustle, and make Holmes Community College proud of us by winning as many games as possible. We try to provide a caring, family atmosphere as much as possible. Trying to play almost 30 games in three months, we have become extremely close. Baseball takes more than just hitting and catching a ball. It takes heart, soul and dedication, and the players show all the qualities and many more." said Coach Dupont.

Bulldog sophomore Josh Reagan slides safely into second base in a game last season against Mississippi Delta.

Bulldog sophomore Josh McNeer lines a hit into the outfield during a game last season. McNeer and his fellow sophomores were expected to be the key players on this year's squad.

Softball team faces new division opponents during 2003 season

The Holmes Community College softball team faces a few different obstacles this season, ones that definitely can be overcome.

The Lady Bulldogs are going into the season with a lot of inexperience with only two returning players. Coaches had to go out and basically rebuild from last year. At the same time, the Lady Bulldogs are changing divisions as did the Bulldog baseball team due to changes made by the State Board of Community and Junior Colleges.

Whereas the state was formerly divided into two divisions, north and south, it will now be divided into three divisions, north, central and south. Holmes is in the central division, along with other schools such as Hinds, East Central, East Mississippi and Meridian, a newcomer to the MACJC athletic association.

"The conference is a tough one," said Edwards. "East

The conference is a tough one. East Mississippi is a perennial powerhouse and Hinds has been one in the south. Meridian has been nationally ranked.

Mississippi is a perennial powerhouse and Hinds has been one in the south. Meridian has been nationally ranked.”

The two lone returning players for the 2002-2003 Holmes Community College Softball team are Jodie Kirk and Shaun Sowell. According to their coaches, both of these girls are hard workers, both in practice and game situations. Winona native Jodie Kirk was the most improved player on last year's team, according to head coach Dan Edwards. "She is a very hard worker and a real asset to the team," said Edwards.

Assistant coach Terry Fancher said, "She is probably one of the hardest workers that has ever played for me. I appreciate her motivation and striving to get better. She has a great attitude." That attitude coupled with the experience she gained last year make her a leader on this year's team. "I expect her to step in and help us a lot with the experience she gained last year," said Fancher. "I thought she did a good job not having a lot of experience with fast-pitch."

Another leader on the softball team will be Shaun Sowell, a shortstop/pitcher/catcher and the only other sophomore on the squad. "Shaun is an all around great player and a very aggressive team leader who hates to lose," said Edwards. "Jodie and Shaun will be the heart and soul of the team. They both have tremendous dedication," said Edwards.

Five of the freshmen may be new to the Lady Bulldogs, but they are certainly familiar to each other. They have all played in Kosciusko's summer softball league. Sara Gowan, Suzanne Oakes, Kristen Ables, Andrea Taylor and Emily Jones round out the players from that area.

The Lady Bulldogs will gain two players from Downsville, Louisiana, Ashley Talley, who now resides in Jones County and pitcher, Jordan Walters.

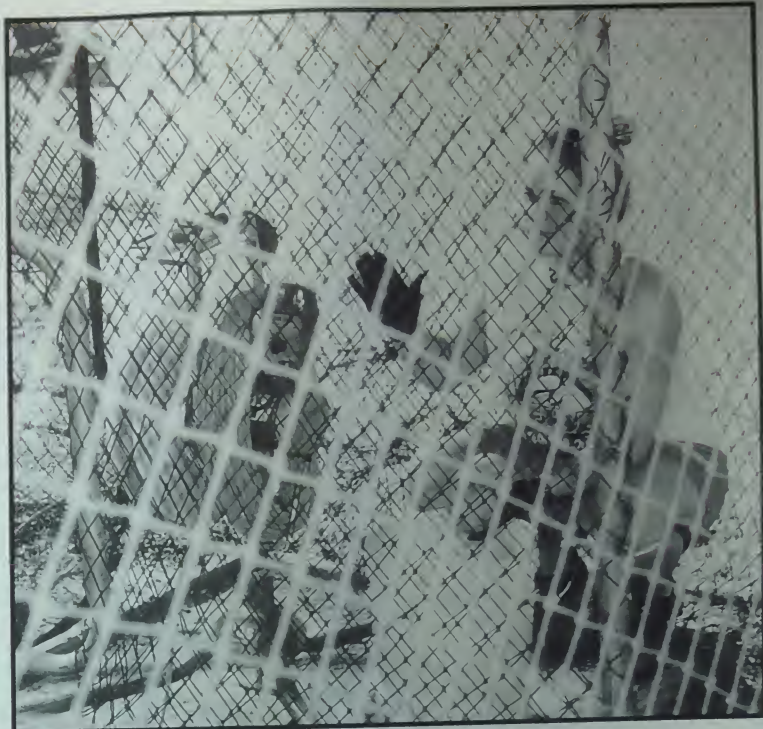

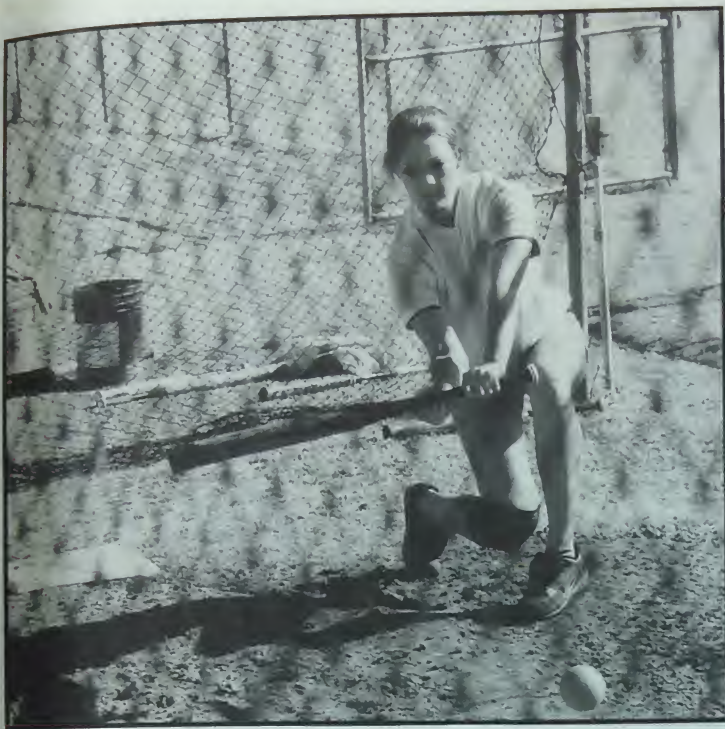

Benton native Lindsey Alexander, Forest Hill grad Alicia Lewis, Kosciusko grad Brittany Summerlin and Winona grad Stacey Brown round out the team members.

Another change for Holmes is the addition of lights on the field. "We have the only lighted softball field among the community colleges in Mississippi," said Edwards.

Coach Edwards and Coach Fancher expect the real lights on the field to be the players. "We are very solid defensively," said Edwards. They work well together. The compatibility and fielding defense are our strong suits."

Two returning players to spark Bulldog golf team in 2003

Britt Johnson and Greg Rodgers are returning players for Coach Todd Kimble's golf team for 2003.

Kimble said Johnson is his number one player. As a freshman, Johnson made two all-tournament teams. His game has really improved, Kimble said.

"I expect him to be one of the top players in our league this coming season," said Kimble.

In addition to Johnson, Rodgers returns for his second season with the Bulldogs. Kimble said he hopes Rodgers will continue to improve as he did last year.

Chad Penn, a Canton Academy graduate, is a six-handicapper who has played in a lot of tournaments. Penn has a chance to compete with Johnson for the number one spot.

Also joining the squad is Brian Miller of the Ridgeland Campus.

Experience should be key to Bulldog tennis team's success

The Holmes Community College men's tennis team has a lot of experience coming into this season.

The men returning on this team included Greg Morgan, Breck Richardson and Cliff Cosnahan.

Tennis coach Andy Wood said Morgan performed well as a freshman.

"Greg always competed and never gave up," said Wood.

Breck Richardson from Kosciusko is expected to lead the squad.

"I feel like Breck will be our sophomore leader and go-to guy this year," Wood said. "He is a solid tennis player, and I'm expecting big things from him."

Wood has high expectation for Cliff Cosnahan as well. "Cliff is a good athlete and did a fine job. I'm expecting a lot of improvement from him this year."

Angela Ramage is the lone female returning player.

"I'm expecting Angela to have a good year," Wood said. "She works very hard and plays well."

Rounding out the Bulldog teams are Daniel Townsend, Lorenzo Johnson and Adam Taylor. For the Lady Bulldogs are Leah Pace, Brandie Browning, Sabrina McGee and Stephanie Grey.

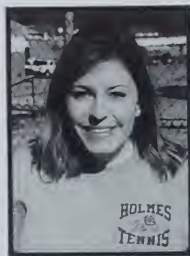

Freshman Sabrina McGee returns a serve during practice.

'Intramural program gets new leadership under Coach Prentiss Cole'

Intramural turnout pleases Cole

By Dan Townsend
Co-Editor

The Intramural sports program at Holmes Community College has been very active during this 2002-2003 school year. The Intramural program has drawn large crowds of students by offering them a wide variety of indoor and outdoor activities to choose from.

According to Prentiss Cole, who is leading the program in his first year at Holmes, the most popular activities, judging by the turn out of students, have been basketball and flag football. "In the fall, we had ten teams with about eight people on each team in flag football, and we've had approximately 60 or 70 people participate in our basketball program," said Cole.

In January, the Intramural program introduced a few new activities, which went over very well. The new activities included: ping-pong, ultimate frisbee, and volleyball. Coach Cole said, "I was really surprised at the large crowds that came to play ping-pong. I never knew ping-pong was this popular."

There are many benefits and advantages to participating in Intramural sports. For one thing, they offer students an opportunity to compete in their favorite hobbies and sports. Another major advantage is that since the competitions are between fellow classmates, the atmosphere is more laid back and less stressful than varsity sports.

In February, additional activities that became available included kickball and homerun derby. Early in February, Coach Cole ordered some new equipment for the Intramural program to make use of. Outdoor activities are typically held on the Intramural field, while the indoor activities are held in the old gym, which is located beside Carroll Cafeteria. Outdoor activities are held on Monday, Wednesdays, and Thursdays in the afternoon from 2-4:30 p.m. Though the schedule occasionally undergoes changes, Coach Cole said that he wants to make sure that the old gym is open every Tuesday night, from 6-8 p.m. for three-on-three basketball and ping-pong. In addition to the three-on-three competitions, three-point shoot-outs are also frequently held.

During second semester, Intramural Director Prentiss Cole spent a lot of time in the old gym on the Goodman Campus.

In March five-on-five flag football will be offered once again. In addition to this, softball is also going to be offered. In April, Coach Cole plans to offer tennis and soccer. Cole said, "Since the soccer program was moved to Ridgeland this year, I've had several people come to me interested in having an Intramural soccer program on the Goodman campus."

Overall, the Intramural program has been a very big success this year. This is largely due to the hard work of Coach Cole, who has devoted much time and energy toward organizing and enriching the Intramural activities offered at Holmes. Students that can are welcome and encouraged to come out and get involved in any of the many activities offered.

Basketball is just of many sports offered by the Holmes Community College Intramural Program under the direction of Prentiss Cole. Cole came to Holmes during the summer of 2002 and quickly got the Intramural program going. Above, Michael Blount goes up for a shot against many defenders in a game of 21 in the old gym.

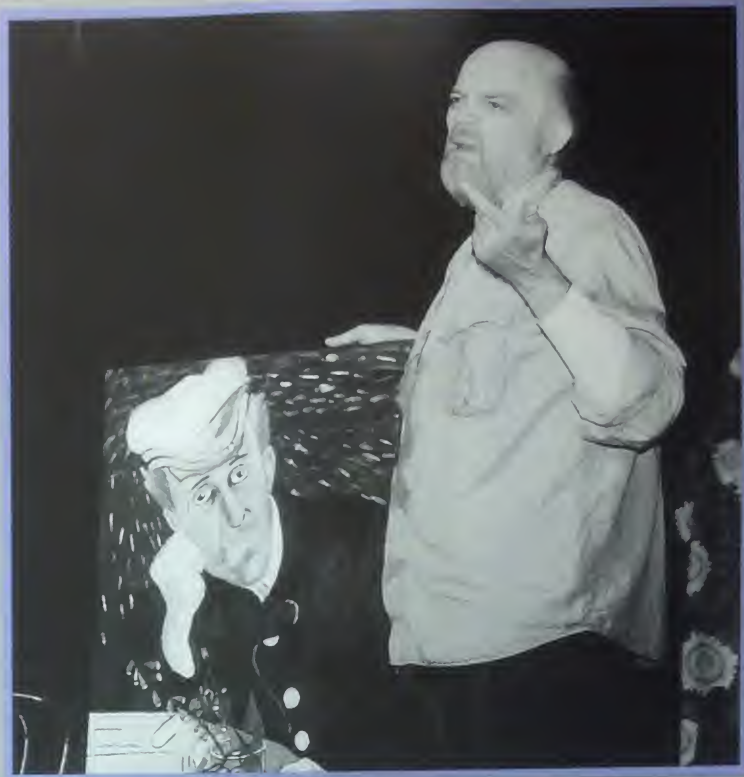

Joe Sykes goes up for a dunk during intramural basketball one night. Sykes was able to play Intramural basketball because he was a sophomore and football season had ended.

Michael Taylor slams one home during basketball time in the Holmes Intramural program.

What changes been at Holmes. I've lost 40 pounds, gained a major and,

most importantly,
met plenty of cute girls. Hooray for

What changes do you see at Holmes in the next ten years?

I see the Ridgeland Campus expanding. By expanding, I mean getting a student union and maybe adding new majors. Holmes will change with the change in technology.

How do your hobbies change from season to season?

In the summer, my hobbies are anything to do outside -- swimming, playing volleyball and riding in boats. In the winter, my hobbies completely change to indoor activities.

Ridgeland Campus Librarian Deb Sample climbs a rock wall during Fall Fest activities on the Ridgeland Campus of Holmes Community College.

What is your favorite season at Holmes and why?

Fall is my favorite season because the leaves are changing colors, the air is getting cooler, and it's just a great feeling. To quote Better than Ezra, "There's a feeling in the air, feeling right this time of year."

Editors' Letter

It's been a real privilege to be on the 2002-2003 Horizons staff. The work we have done and the stress we have overcome has paid off now, and it's good to know our efforts have been worthwhile.

Many people have contributed much to this yearbook, and we want to thank some of them by name. Our instructor, Steve Diffey, has devoted considerable time and energy, and his work is much appreciated. Nan Sykes and Jim Williams have also done so much to help us throughout the year, and their work is appreciated. We want to thank everyone else who has been on the Horizons staff this year. Without their faithfulness to research, write stories, take pictures and meet deadlines, this book would have never come together. Thanks also to all of the students and instructors who agreed to be interviewed.

We hope this book will serve as a reminder years from now of what life at Holmes Community College was like. As students leave to go on to continue their education and to work, we hope Holmes will always have a special place in your memories. Hopefully this yearbook will be some help toward keeping fond memories from growing too faint.

To close, we'd like to leave a quote from Billy Joel that seems appropriate: "This is the time to remember, cause it will not last forever. These are the days to hold on to, cause we won't although we'll want to." May the nostalgia stay alive.

Colophon

Holmes Community College's 2003 Horizons, Volume 74, consists of 240 pages on a 9x12 format. The book contains 80# paper and a Smyth binding. There are 24 color pages.

The 1,500 copies of the book were printed at Taylor Publishing Co., Inc., in Dallas, Texas. The sales representative was Ben Allen. The in-plant representative was Tami McConnell.

The cover is lithocote four-color process. Cross grain, and applied color of Smoke Gray No. 84. All four leaves are embossed. Endsheets are Rainbow Red printed at 20 percent, with applied colors black 01 and gold 919. The "Seasons of Change" is printed on endsheet in black 01 with gold 919 drop shadow. The cover and endsheets were designed by graphic artist Sebastian Chiri and Caron Blanton. All pages were composed on a Macintosh G4 using PageMaker 7.0 and Photoshop 6.0. Pages were also built using YBPro!

Fonts used include Times, Times New Roman and Arial. Bakersville old face was used on the cover and spine for "change" and "horizons". Rose round bold was used for "Seasons".

The spot color used throughout the book was Taylor Color X9094, 45 percent.

Portrait photographs were taken by Southern School Images with headquarters in Jackson and Gulfport. The viewpoints represented in this yearbook are solely of the staff and in no way intend to reflect college policy.
